CLAIMS

I claim:

1. (Currently amended) A simulated cigarette to help quell tobacco addiction, comprising:
  - a tubular body being comprised of a rigid material, preferably plastic;
  - a plug, being incorporated in an inner area of said tubular body and specifically at one end of said tubular body, and being located adjacent to a first filter having a central hollow space where natural essences are incorporated; and
  - a second filter arranged on an end adjacent to the end provided with the first filter, having an extension in an outer area thereof with a smaller diameter and length on which a flexible tip is coupled next to said first filter, said second filter having an extended inner diameter, to which said flexible tip is connected.
